

On this day, the first crossword puzzle was published in a newspaper. Using one of the subjects you are currently studying, write at least 10 clues for a crossword puzzle that you could create and give to a classmate. Using graph paper or the computer, you can then create your puzzle.